DISCRETIONARY RISK OF THE MECHANICAL BREAKDOWN WARRANTY

AWN has a discretion as to whether it will or will not pay a Claim that falls within the Mechanical Breakdown Warranty Terms and Conditions and Limitations. AWN will not exercise that discretion in a way that is unfair and unconscionable, within the Terms and Conditions and limitations of the Mechanical Breakdown Warranty, and will always consider the merits of the Claim and the requirements of the applicable State and Commonwealth legislation.

We also have a comprehensive Complaints Resolution Process which is explained in Section (14) of this contract.

As this Mechanical Breakdown Warranty is a discretionary product it does not offer the same level of protection as an insurance policy. The level of protection is limited to the Covered Components listed under the heading Significant Characteristics of this Mechanical Breakdown Warranty only. However, AWN has satisfied the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC) requirements for an Australian Financial Services Licence.

This Mechanical Breakdown Warranty is not associated with the manufacturer of your Motor Vehicle nor is it an extension of any warranty that was provided by the manufacturer or the Selling Agent. Claims against the manufacturer or the Selling Agent may be available under the Australian Consumer Law. This Mechanical Breakdown Warranty is not a repair or maintenance program for your Motor Vehicle.

Make sure You carefully read the Terms and Conditions for details of the servicing and other conditions that apply to this Mechanical Breakdown Warranty.

13. SUMMARY OF RIGHT AND REMEDIES UNDER THE ACL

The protection afforded to You under this Product is in addition to, and does not substitute for, the rights You have under the Australian Consumer Law (ACL). If and to the extent that You have a right to Claim under the ACL, You also need to Claim under your Mechanical Breakdown Warranty.

The ACL protects consumers by automatically giving them basic, guaranteed rights for goods they purchase ("Consumer Guarantees") at no charge. For example, the ACL requires that, taking account of the nature of goods, the price, any representations made by the supplier or manufacturer and other relevant circumstances, the goods must be free of defects, do what they are meant to do, be safe, durable and acceptable in appearance and finish, be fit for any particular purpose that the consumer makes known, and comply with any description given or any demonstration model used.

In the event of a breach of a Consumer Guarantee where there is a major failure of the goods, consumers are entitled to reject the goods and choose a replacement or refund and Claim compensation for any reasonably foreseeable loss or damage suffered by consumers as a result of the failure. Where the failure does not amount to a major failure, consumers are entitled to have the supplier repair or replace the goods (at the supplier's choice). Whether a specific failure breaches a Consumer Guarantee and a consumer is entitled to a remedy under the ACL will depend on the circumstances.

Consumer Guarantees have no set time limit but generally last for an amount of time that is reasonable to expect in the circumstances, given factors including the age, cost and quality of the goods, the use made of the goods or any representation made by the supplier or manufacturer. Consumer Guarantees may continue even at the expiry of the Manufacturer's Warranty Breakdown Insurance for the goods or this Mechanical Breakdown Warranty. The exact amount of time that Consumer Guarantees last in the case of a specific purchase varies depending on the circumstances.

Assets may also have an additional Statutory Warranty. The provisions of such warranties varies from State to State. Any Statutory Warranty may be in addition to or overlap the ACL and may also operate concurrently to the ACL.

ADDITIONAL BENEFITS UNDER THIS MECHANICAL BREAKDOWN WARRANTY NOT AVAILABLE UNDER ACL

We appreciate that You may want the certainty of knowing that if Assets You buy are faulty they are covered for specific events and a specific time period.
